Once again, we return to South Africa and partner with the Women's Property Network to bring you an unmissable and informative RICS conference. Join us in June where industry leaders, experts, and professionals from across the continent will explore the dynamic trends shaping Africa's economic, urban, and investment landscape. This full-day event offers a deep dive into critical topics, including the latest economic and political trends, the challenges of rapid urbanization, advancements in property valuation, and the future of financing and investment in Africa.

Through engaging keynote sessions, panel discussions, and real-world case studies, you'll gain actionable insights into sustainable urban development, harnessing technology for smarter cities, and addressing emerging challenges in the valuation and investment sectors.

The conference is designed to provide an unparalleled platform for learning, collaboration, and networking. Attendees will have the opportunity to connect with industry experts, policymakers, and peers during dedicated networking breaks, as well as at our cocktail reception to close the day.

Whether you're looking to stay ahead of industry trends, explore innovative solutions, or build meaningful partnerships, this event is your gateway to shaping the future of Africa's built environment.
